CLARKE GIRLS BUY OLLIE SHOW SIRE

Champion Club Girl Buys Top Animal at Green County Auction.

Edith Clarke, Rock county's champion club girl, is the most talked person in Green County. This eleven-year-old girl went over to the Green county Holstein auction sale held in the new $25,000 pavilion on Wednesday, and purchased the top animal of the sale, a prize bull, for $305, and paid for the animal out of club money. The purchase by the club girl was the feature of the sale, the crowd clapping and cheering as the top animal was knocked off to Miss Clarke.

Several Rock county breeders in looking over Green county herds, discovered this calf, a yearling sire, a black and white, sired by Sir Ollie, a grand champion, sired by Sir Ollie, a grand champion, sired by Theodor Dayherford, Monroe. The dam of the calf is a black and white, sired by a three-year-old to be run on test next year for a 30 pound or better record. The grand-dam, Wickwau, Pontiac, has a 33.55 fat and 22.752.20 pounds milk record.

Will Show Calf. The Rock county breeders picked the animal as an excellent sire, and in good type and breeding. The two Clarke girls realized a part of the amount from the calf they sold at the Rock county auction. With this money and that gained by other bidding, she made the bids herself and never faltered in following the bids to $305, when local bidders stopped.

She was introduced to the ring and everyone in the big pavilion applauded as she stood up to sign the sale record.

You cannot beat Rock county," she shouted the auctioneer. "That's one reason they have good cattle over there."

The calf will be fitted by the Clarke girls for the Rock County Holstein show herd. The two girls have dreams of putting a ribbon on their calf at the National Dairy show. This makes the third herd sire of Iowa, Sir Ollie, and the first to come into Rock county in the last year and all three are good show bulls.

Three More Sales. The sale at Monroe was fair considering the average quality of the consignment. One herd was completely dispersed through the sale. The young bulls sold well. The Rock county sale topped the list in the state thus far due to good management, and the fact that the improved consignment was better than the one at Monroe. Every effort was made to get the best possible sale. The next Rock county sale will be held October 30, and now is the time the farmers and breeders want to select their sale animals and start fitting them. Quality consignments brings better prices and there is no question but that appearance brings increased prices.

There will be three cattle sales in Rock county this fall, two Milking Shorthorn sales and the second sale of the Holstein association. Every effort is being made to set higher standards for all these sales.

BEEKEEPERS HOLD DEMONSTRATION SAT.

The Rock county beekeepers will hold a meeting Saturday at 1:30 p. m. at the residence of C. E. Hirsch, 215 South Third street, Janesville. A demonstration will be given showing beekeepers how to control swarming and how to obtain more quality honey. The bees will be taken from the standard honey pails now ready for the association, according to Walter Ross, president.

POISON GAS TO CURE T. B.

Washington.—Respiratory diseases, notably tuberculosis and influenza, have been checked and the possibility of their cure apparently has been demonstrated by the moderate use of poison gas. According to experts of the chemical warfare service, Dr. A. S. Lovenhart of the University of Wisconsin has just returned from Madrid after conducting successful experiments at the Edgewood arsenal, showing a small amount of chlorine mixed with air has checked quickly epidemics of grip, influenza and colds and has been effective even with pneumonia, while mustard gas has been of high value in combating tuberculosis.

DEAF CHILD KEPT OUT OF STATE SCHOOL

Harry Geiger, Alcock boulevard, must appear in municipal court here again, May 15, for failure to have his 15-year-old daughter, Genevieve, attend the state school for the deaf at Dolan.

"The girl is deaf and I have had her in the school for 12 years," said Geiger when arraigned before Judge H. L. Manning. "This spring she has been having trouble with her eyes and I took her out of school rather than have her go blind, too."

Geiger was ordered to appear on complaint of a field worker for the state school.

The creation of the automobile helped by accident. This was brought about by the many explosions of the kerosene lamp due to gasoline, which the imperfect distillation process in the early days of experiments left in the kerosene. To prevent these explosions, the oil was more carefully rectified.

GREEN ARROW

MANUFACTURED BY THE PALMOLIVE COMPANY

Someone said hair and teeth were chief beauty items. But suppose your hands are rough and ugly? Pretty hands mark the lady the world over! Now every woman can have them even though she scrubs, does the dishes, does all her household work.

A New Idea! As world's beauty experts we've developed a household soap that does not injure the most charming hands. 3 housewives in 4, we learned, had ugly red hands because of harsh laundry soaps. Most contain 25% to 40% water glass—a skin wrecker. A chemical test of 28 popular brands of household soaps showed 27 strongly adulterated! So when you see a woman with ugly hands, you now know the reason.

Olive Oil! The name of this new soap is Green Arrow. It contains olive oil—as mild and gentle as a fine toilet soap. Yet it cleans more quickly and safely than the old-time laundry soap. You will call it a new delight. Use it freely—it won't injure either you or fine fabrics.

For One Week Obtain a bar of Green Arrow at your grocer's. Then look at your hands in one week. Scores of women have made the test. They know that using old-time laundry soaps is folly. And it costs only a few cents a month to enjoy it. For you must figure soap costs by the month, never by the bar. Pure soap goes further. Green Arrow Soap comes in two forms—Cake Soap, for general household use; Chips (or flakes) for laundry and fine fabrics. Both offer you unusual advantages.

SHIP BOOZE ISSUE TO WORLD COURT?

Foreign Governments Will Not Accept U. S. Supreme Tribunal Edict.

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright, 1923, by Janesville Daily Gazette.

Washington.—A question as to whether foreign governments will accept the decision of the supreme court of the United States that municipal law applies to American ships in foreign waters, is being asked by the American government.

Although the supreme court's decision does not have much practical effect, it is a matter of some importance to the American government, and it is being asked whether foreign governments will accept the decision.

Under the American constitution, the supreme court is the final authority on questions of law, and its decision is binding on all the other branches of the government.

But the American government is not alone in the world. There are many other countries, and each of them has its own supreme court.

And the American government is asking whether these other countries will accept the decision of the American supreme court.

If they do not, the American government will have to ask the world court to decide the issue.

The world court is a new institution, and it is not yet known whether it will be able to decide such questions.

But the American government is asking the world court to decide the issue, and it is asking the world court to decide the issue.

The American government is asking the world court to decide the issue, and it is asking the world court to decide the issue.

FISHER TO START PRODUCTION SOON

First Janesville-Made Closed Bodies Ready in May.

Before the close of May, Janesville-made Fisher closed bodies will be placed on the closed type of Chevrolet automobiles run out at the Chevrolet plant here, according to present indications.

It was said at the Fisher plant today that Tuesday, that installation of the equipment for the assembling of bodies will be started within the next 10 days as soon as Roy C. Taylor, who will be in charge of the plant, arrives from Cleveland to superintend the work.

Since operations were started here, the bodies have been put through only the painting process at the Fisher plant, and the bodies being shipped here from other Fisher plants. One carload of knockdown bodies has been shipped through the wires soon as the assembly equipment is set up.

Two lines planned. Each 195 feet long at the opposite end of the plant from where the ovens are located, will be the closed type of bodies. On one the sedans will be assembled and coupes on the other. The demand for coupes exceeds that of sedans.

The closed type of the season for the closed cars is in the summer months, it was stated, but it picks up in the fall and continues strong through the winter. This is explained by the weather conditions, although the closed cars are each year becoming more popular.

A total of 3,400 closed cars have been produced at the Fisher plant here this far. The production for May calls for 71 cars, a day, Mr. Taylor said. About 60 persons are working on the closed type of bodies, and more will be taken on, and increased until 400 are at work when 100 cars will be turned out.

The difference in the quota at the local Fisher plant between the number assembled and the quota will be made up by cars which are only finished here. The number of the latter will of course decrease as the efficiency in production speeds up.

An exceedingly high type of workmanship is demanded in the manufacture of the closed type of bodies. The biggest difficulty is in the trimming work which requires skill and dexterity. Holding two kinds of trucks in one's mind at one time is one of the tasks of the trimmers.

The work of installation of assembly equipment is expected to take about two weeks.

Of Interest Only To Savers

This matter is of no interest to you unless you save money or expect to.

A Trust Company, like the Rock County Savings & Trust Co., differs from other savings banks in several ways. One is that the State will not permit the Trust Company to loan your money without DOUBLE security. We must not only have the usual note of the borrower, with his good credit behind it, but we must also have actual property, of a greater value, pledged for the debt.

Harry Dumphy, 358 Milton Ave.

This is what we mean by the DOUBLE security behind Trust Company deposits. It is one reason why not a cent of savings has been lost in any Trust Company in Wisconsin, and a very good reason why you should have a savings account in the Rock County Savings & Trust Co.

The spirit of improvement is abroad upon the earth. It stimulates the hearts and sharpens the faculties not of our fellow-citizens alone but of the nations of Europe and of their rulers. While dwelling with pleasing satisfaction upon the superior excellencies of our political institutions, let us not be unmindful that liberty is power; that the nation blessed with the largest portion of liberty must in proportion to its numbers be the most powerful nation upon earth, and that the tenure of power by man is, in the moral purposes of his Creator, upon condition that it shall be exercised to ends of beneficence, to improve the condition of himself and his fellowmen.

Lausanne Again
What was a fairly peaceful conference three months ago at Lausanne but which finally adjourned without accomplishing any decided result other than to widely separate European powers from the Angora government, has now a successor in the second conference which has already brought forward even more acute situations. One must have a kaleidoscopic mind to follow all the twists and turns of either European or Oriental politics. France aided Kemal in his war on the Greek. For that, France evidently expected compensation over her occupation of Syria. But with the granting of the concessions to Chester and others, France, whether in the right or the wrong, claims she had already had these grants in 1914 and that the treaty of that time has not been abrogated though Angora says it has. Hence the determination to increase the French forces on the Syrian frontier and a like movement of troops of the Turkish National army to checkmate France. All of which goes to show that peace which comes by conversation and parley is at some distance away. It is hardly likely, however, that France will start a war on Turkey. It is too big a job. Eventually such a clash of arms would be fatal to Turkey and a terrible burden to France and her allies who would find it necessary to come to her support. The Chester grant is to private citizens of America. It cannot and must not be made to savor of anything in which the United States as a nation is concerned. The integrity of the contract signed at Angora is between the American private citizens and the Turks. We are not a part of the Lausanne conference except that we look on with a trifle more than an academic interest.

Every week now should be clean-up week to be ready for the clean-up when it is officially announced.

"Undigested" Legislation
The Green Bay Press-Gazette calls attention at length to the decision of the supreme court of the state in the Fond du Lac case in which the right of a trial by jury has been limited by statute passed a few years ago. In that, it was provided that in the Fond du Lac municipal court, in order to receive the benefit of a jury trial, the defendant must deposit $24 in cash. Now it is quite plain that some member of the legislature passing upon that bill and making it a statute law of the state of Wisconsin must have been familiar with the constitution of the state where in Section 5 of Article I, says:

The right of trial by jury shall remain inviolate; and shall extend to all cases in law, without regard to the amount in controversy; but a jury trial may be waived by the parties in all cases in the manner prescribed by law.

Of course when a person, even a member of the legislature, read that he must have been convinced that it did not mean, when it was made necessary for a defendant to put up $24, that the "right of trial by jury" remained "inviolable." It was undigested legislation, hurriedly passed as usual no doubt, and that made it necessary for a supreme court to pass upon the constitutionality of the law. This is not peculiar to the Wisconsin legislature; congress does the same thing and "passes the buck" to the supreme court with wide-open eyes. Take the Dyer anti-lynching bill in congress last winter as an instance; the very best constitutional lawyers were fairly of the opinion that it was in direct violation of the constitutional reservation as to rights of states but in answer to that oft-repeated cry that "We should have a law on this," it came near being passed along to the supreme court for final analysis.

Undigested and careless legislation is the cause of most of the government ills coming from badly made or wholly bad laws which are in contravention of the basic principles and guarantees of the constitution. When we get so that we will spend more time on a few measures, make less haste, and seek accuracy rather than speed, we

UNCLE SAM TAGGING FISH
By FREDERICK J. HASKIN
Washington. — Of great scientific interest to naturalists and of practical commercial value to fishermen is a new investigation which has just been undertaken by the Bureau of Fisheries of the department of commerce. It is the tagging of fish for the purpose of identifying them later and in other places and thereby determining their migratory habits.
Henry O'Mally, commissioner of fisheries, has decided to begin the experiment with the cod, the halibut and the haddock of the New England banks. The results are expected to be of the utmost value to the fishing fleets.
Old fishermen, born and raised on the New England coast, and whose fathers before them have followed the trade of deep-sea fishing for generations, know all there is to learn by actual experience concerning the habits of the North Atlantic fish, but it is believed the scientific work of the bureau will add to the lore of the fishing banks by employment of modern methods. That the fishermen are not scornful of science is indicated by the fact that the Master Mariners' association of Gloucester, Mass., has expressed the liveliest interest in the work and it is giving the bureau unanimous support.
Gloucester is the principal New England fishing port, although other towns on the coast of New England also send out their fleets each season. The traditional arrangement is for the master and men who man a fishing schooner to have shares in the enterprise. No regular wages are paid the men but all work hard and, when the catch is sold, all the men share.

The Bureau of Fisheries maintains hatcheries at Woods Hole and Gloucester, Mass., at Boothbay Harbor, Ten thousand fish of the cod, pollock and haddock species are to be tagged with little metal tags which will not readily come off nor interfere with movements and growth. Posters are being placed at the great fish markets along the coast announcing the work and a reward of 25 cents will be paid by the government for each little tag returned with the information concerning where and when the tagged fish was caught.

To assist the study, the bureau has worked out an identification system for fish which might be compared to the Bertillon finger print system. It has been discovered that the scales of a fish show, under microscopic inspection, characteristic markings which reveal the life, growth and age of the fish. When tagged fishes are caught, the fisherman or dealer who finds the tag is urged by the bureau to scrape off a few scales and send them along with the tag. From a scientific examination of these scales, experts of the bureau can learn many things concerning the story of the fish.

The bureau has fitted up a special steamer to sail on a fish tagging cruise. The bureau's steamer Malcomson has been outfitted with special tanks and on April 16 it sailed on one of the most curious fishing expeditions ever undertaken, a fishing trip the purpose of which is to catch fish only to throw them back into the water. The first cruise was in the waters of Nantucket Shoals. The fish will be caught in nets and the three varieties will be segregated, tagged and thrown back into the water. In all probability some of the tagged fish may be caught the next day by some fisherman but it is equally likely that some may remain at liberty for years. Some likely will be caught within a few miles of the place where they were tagged and some, doubtless, a thousand miles away. These are precisely the facts the bureau desires to determine.

It is known the great schools of fish migrate from time to time between the coast line and the fishing banks and between the banks. A bank is a submerged plateau. The ocean in most places is of great depth, but in other places the bottom rises in the form of a mountain or plateau to within comparatively short distance of the surface. The fish usually stay in the waters over these banks, except when they are going from one to another.
The Georges bank and the grand bank are the principal haunts of the cod and to these fishing grounds the fleets from the New England ports annually sail. They remain at sea until they catch enough fish to fill the hold. On some occasions, for unaccountable reasons, the fish are scarce and time is lost, the ships riding at anchor days on end and using up provisions. These expensive intervals, it is hoped, will be avoided as a result of the facts ascertained from the government experiments.

The government already has done much to aid the fishermen. The radio is employed to a substantial extent. Important and interesting studies of ocean currents have been made. One method of studying them is the launching of bottles, tightly corked so they will float indefinitely. In 1919 a number of bottles were set afloat in the Bay of Fundy.

The bottles have been picked up from time to time, the weather bureau within the last few days having reported on four bottles of the 1919 lot. No. 198 was found on the island of Flores in the Azores. As the Bay of Fundy is on the Canadian Coast this means this bottle nearly crossed the Atlantic. No. 239 was picked up on the island of Papa Westray in the Orkneys. No. 98 was picked up at Dyffryn, North Wales, and No. 129 was found two miles from land at the Bohle-Walstaden, Soro, Westmanland in Norway. The weather bureau has figured that these bottles must have traveled respectively, 2,000 miles, 2,800 miles, 2,900 miles and 3,800 miles in respective times of 12 months, 17 months, 19 months and 23 months.

shall have better laws and less need for a supreme court passing on legislation.

Two members of the G. A. R. served in the present senate of the United States, one, Knute Nelson, has just passed away, while the other, Senator Warren, of Wyoming, is still active. Senator Nelson was wounded at Port Hudson and carried a bullet all his life. He was perhaps the last of the simple life senators in that body though his program of work and reading is followed by Senator Lenroot very closely.

Civilization no longer lingers. It uses a flivver.

"It's a waste of father to shave an ass" remarked the sententious corner grocery philosopher of long ago. Capt. W. H. Stayton, head of the A. A. P. A., or the "Back to the Boomer" society, says we are eating less food because we do not have an appetizer any more—a cocktail of three fingers of bourbon. It might be a waste of good soap suds to call the captain's attention to several hundred thousand women and children who are eating regularly now but who used to hungrily wait in hope father would save a little from his pay envelope on pay day after his evening spent at the corner saloon owned by a brewer.

Having taken a wallop at the Sachtlein bill let us hope the senate will not reconsider.

If we could only get some of those merriment dancers to work in the garden!

JUST FOLKS
By EDGAR A. GUEST.
THE VAUDEVILLE OF LIFE
Life is a vaudeville show.
A good act now and then.
The dancers come and go.
And then the juggling men;
A dumpy turn and screw
With nothing new or bright,
The star with eyes aglow,
And at the last "good night!"
So we from day to day
Along the stretch of years
Live out life's changing play
From happy mirth to tears.
Success with all its little while,
Lasts but a little while.
Now tedious seems the "ill"
And far-fetched every smile.
Now life but dull appears.
Dreary and commonplace,
Then sorrow brings the tears
Or laughter lights the face:
But still the good act lives
After the curtain's fall,
And what was left gives
Rich beauty to it all.

Who's Who Today
As chief forester of the U. S., Col. W. B. Greeley is one of the government department heads of which little is heard in the flurry of international discussions and the mad rush of the hour. But he is playing an important part in the general welfare of the country.

Greeley has been a champion of the trees and a fighter for conservation ever since he entered the department in 1904. He has learned the work of the department from all angles. A year after his entrance he was inspector of forest reserves in California, and when that position was vacant he was promoted to chief of the Sequoia national forest in California. Then he became district forester in charge of territory comprising Montana, and northern Idaho. He was called to Washington in 1911 to become assistant forester in charge of the western section of the Twentieth engineers and was decorated by the U. S. Great Britain and France for his services. He became chief forester in 1920, succeeding Col. Henry S. Graves.

Greeley was a leading spirit in the recent forest protection week, authorized by President Harding and observed throughout the nation by schools and different organizations. He was born in Oswego, N. Y., September 6, 1876. He obtained a B. S. degree at the Yale forest school and a B. S. degree at the University of California.

OPINIONS OF OTHERS
"Progressives" Is a Misnomer.
A few politicians in Washington have begun referring to themselves as "progressives." Ordinarily names are of no especial consequence. People are at liberty to call themselves what they please. But in this case the politicians are appropriating a name that has a definite meaning. They are attempting to cash in on a word that is a political asset.

"Progressive," as applied to a political group in the United States, refers, if not to the men and women who have led the great movement of 1912, at least to its spirit. Special privilege had become entrenched in congress in the old system of rules in which a few men of reactionary tendencies dominated the house. The revolt against the rules, called insurgency, broadened in a spirit of reform in 1909 into progressivism. The progressive in that session was the member of congress who put national interest above sectional interest or the interests of favored localities.

Then, under the inspiring leadership of Theodore Roosevelt, progressivism came to stand for the supremacy of human rights over property rights. It recognized, as Roosevelt said, that ordinarily the rights coincided. But where they conflicted, the man was put above the dollar. Thus child labor might make money for the textile mill. But the progressive was against it because he was for the rights of the child. Workmen's protective laws were product of the progressive movement. So was a tariff commission. So was the program to guard against hard times, which only now has finally been formulated under the direction of Secretary Hoover. So was the attack on the wrong practices of big business.

But the men who now are posing as progressives are not men of constructive spirit. Parts of their program—such as the development of co-operative marketing—are progressive. But the bulk of their program is reckless agitation. They are far removed from the spirit in which the progressives of 1912 faced the problems of that day.

They may call themselves radicals, if they wish, or the left wing. But they have no right to the name "progressive."—Kansas City Star (Progressive Newspaper).

BEYOND THE RANGE
This is the sixth and last (for a little while) of a series of talks about the most common cause of sickness, respiratory infection. It is generally recognized that children are naturally more susceptible to these diseases than adults are. Some such belief is common, even among doctors, yet there is little support for it beside the mere fact that the children are the greatest sufferers from respiratory infections. I do not think children are naturally more susceptible to measles, diphtheria, coryza or any other respiratory infection than adults are. I think that adults do acquire a certain amount of immunity to some of these diseases through having had them. The children are more likely to catch such diseases for the simple reason that they come more intimately in contact with persons who happen to be developing such diseases. In school, in play, in the arms of those who love them. A child just can't keep beyond the range of spray infection; remember that thousands of people still think it is proper to cough and sneeze into their handkerchiefs or about when they are developing what they fondly call a "cold."

Suppose you are engaged as a ticket seller, a salesman at the counter, a teacher in a school, a conductor of an office where you talk with or are interviewed by many persons every day. You may find it possible so to arrange things that you may keep beyond the conversational spray range of your customers or patrons, that is, not less than five feet from face to face. If so you are comparatively safe. Unless somebody sneezes or coughs upon you, in which case the range increases to 10 feet. Many people in business can arrange things so as to keep beyond the conversational range of most of the persons they encounter. It is well worth while doing so, from the hygienic point of view, particularly so when any of the respiratory infections happen to be epidemic. When the conditions make it possible to keep beyond the conversational spray range, then the alternative, as a safety first measure, is the wearing of a mask or not less than 10 layers of surgeon's gauze (cheese cloth with 13 threads to the inch), over nose and mouth. This you should certainly do in any matter of common politeness when you yourself happen to have what purports to be a "slight cold," or sore throat or any such condition. There is a golden rule in hygiene, though precious few people live up to it, because human politeness doesn't demand it. The rule is: whenever it is wrong to spray your neighbor's face.

Is it a brand condensed milk all right to feed a baby if it weasels old? Our doctor said it is poor in vitamins and if we feed it to the baby we should also feed the baby orange juice to furnish vitamins. But a nurse insists that I should feed the condensed milk alone. It is the sweetened milk (Mrs. C. B.).
Answer—If fresh milk is to be had it would be much better, but if you must resort to condensed milk temporarily, by all means follow your doctor's advice.
Children Would Melt the Type.
Would like your opinion of impacted wisdom teeth, whether they should be removed or left in place when perfectly sound. (Mrs. A. J.).
Answer—Of course if the tooth is sound and causing no trouble it need not be removed. Let sleeping dogs lie. Sometimes an impacted wisdom tooth causes a powerful lot of trouble which continues until the thing is out. Tabulation of considerable numbers of people show that 47 per cent of adults aged 20 years have one to all four wisdom teeth missing—unrupted. Answer—Of course it would do no harm, but I don't see why you should give it. Give her a cathartic at regular intervals, say once every three or four weeks, to keep the bowels in better condition. Whether the mother thinks the child needs it or not? (L. C.).
Answer—I have never seen a child I hated enough to advise that

Q. Is the etherizing of fruit practicable?—M. M.
A. The Department of Agriculture says that this is an attempt to preserve fruits without heat and sterilization. Experiments made in France show that the process is not successful in fruits, but the ether did not stop some forms of chemical decomposition. Experiments conducted in foreign countries have not been carried on very extensively in this country.
Q. Why was the crescent and star adopted for the Turkish symbol?—V. I.
A. The crescent moon was adopted by the founder of the present Turkish empire, Osman or Osman I, who was born in 1299. According to tradition the star on the Mohammedan standard represented the favorite wife of the ruler.
Q. How can a carpet be re-sized?—W. C.
A. The carpet should be stretched tight and true and tacked at frequent intervals face down on the floor or on a board surface where it can remain undisturbed. It should then be sprinkled generally with a solution made by soaking and dissolving one-fourth pound of flake glue in one quart of water. The glue should be poured on a container surrounded by hot water. The carpet should be allowed to dry for at least 24 hours. If it is light weight, care should be taken not to put on so much glue that it penetrates to the right side.

Q. Please give recipe for hot tamales.—W. H. V.
A. Hot Tamales: White part; mix one quart cornmeal with one pint warm water; add one teaspoon salt and one-half pound hot lard to make soft dough. Heat part; mix one cup water, one cup cornmeal salt. Heat one-half pound lard and one-half quart corn tomatoes with one-half teaspoon red pepper and one cup water. While still hot add the cornmeal and boil this to make a dough. Cut two pounds boiled chicken into small pieces. To make each tamale, spread one tablespoon white dough on cornshucks and one teaspoon red dough and pieces of chicken about one-fourth the size of the tamale. Wrap each tamale in cornshucks and steam one hour. This recipe makes 40 tamales.

Girl of Ghost Mountain

By J. ALLAN DUNN

SYNOPSIS. Peter Sheridan, young New York lawyer, ranches in Arizona because of threatened tuberculosis. Chito, a Chinaman, is near Ghost Mountain on which he and his foreman, Red Jackson, discover a woman's death. However, to be a ghost. At Mictlan, the nearby town, Hollister, rustler and a Chinaman, who is rescued by Sheridan and installed as cook at the ranch. Later Sheridan is aware that Ghost Mountain is inhabited by a young woman and a giant. Hollister and his gang are going to raid the place. Peter and Red plan to rescue the woman. They make their way to the cabin on the mountain and are captured. The rustlers attack and are fed waffles by the women. Returning from a visit to the girl of Ghost Mountain, Sheridan and Jackson find the ranch has been raided and Quong, the Chinese cook, taken away. They follow and rescue Quong. It is apparent that the Chinaman has some secret which Hollister and his gang of rustlers wish to obtain.

"No. Waffles." And the cook surveyed them with his inscrutable, sphinxlike face as Sheridan bent to his hands in sudden pain and Jackson muttered blankly.

"Waffles. I'm a son of a gun. Waffles!"

CHAPTER VII
On Ghost Mountain

The snake, represented by Hollister, was scotched. Whether its back-bone was broken, Sheridan doubted. At all events it would not disturb the order of the Hidden Homestead, now doubly protected, and that, aside from Quong, was the main issue.

Quong went on the even tenor of his way, cooking with a scrupulousness from the recipes in the book and scoring success after success. He never mentioned his rescue nor did Sheridan refer to it. But he sensed that the Chinaman had a lively appreciation of what had been done for him and was waiting, in his mysterious, Oriental way, for the moment in which to show his gratitude. Why such a man had isolated himself on Chito Mesa remained an unanswered and constant query. That it was done from no idle whim, that Mictlan had been deliberately selected, Sheridan was convinced. The man was far removed from a cook. He spent

THIS LITTLE BABY GIRL

Was Benefited by the Good Her Mother Got from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Pittsburgh, Pa.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before my little girl was born, and the effect it had was wonderful. This will be the first child I have ever had, and I had to bring my two boys up on the bottle. I was very nervous and worried, tired all the time, and after I read about the vegetable compound, I tried it and kept on with it. I found it continued to use and recommend it to my friends. You may publish these facts as a testimonial for your medicine."—Mrs. Wm. KLINE, 169 Plymouth St., Pittsburgh, Pa.

It is remarkable how many cases have been reported similar to this one. Many mothers are left in a weakened and run-down condition after the birth of the child, and for such mothers the care of the baby is well-nigh impossible. Not only is it hard for the mother, but the child itself will indirectly suffer.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is an excellent tonic for the mother at this time. It is prepared from medicinal roots and herbs, and does not contain any harmful drugs.

Sheridan kept in touch with the outside world by certain magazines, which with the exception of journals dealing with cattle breeding and irrigation, ultimately found their way to Ghost Mountain. Quong read many of these. The Literary Digest he perused from cover to cover, gravely and methodically.

Sheridan had a feeling that Quong got more out of the consensus of world's news than he did. But again and again the question he had asked himself on the platform at Mictlan depot reverberated: "What the devil was Quong doing in this valley?" He seemed contented, but one could never guess at what worked his mind. His mouth, indeed, his glib tongue set in their unworkable, hoodlike lids. After a while Sheridan gave it up, sure that the riddle could unfold itself in time. The cowboys of the Diamond W. and his own outfit had gleefully herded Hollister's lynch party into a cactus thicket and hidden through to Mictlan, where they had spread an account of the night's doings that caused the limping Hollisterites to be greeted with jeers and the ridicule that emphasizes defeat. Hollister had taken his loss and his tarred visage to his ranch, where he sulked while the pitch went off.

The Ploche Plainman had got hold of the incident and his star reporter had written his headlines and facetious paragraphs that referred to "Tar and Tarders" in a manner that rubbed in the lesson. Sympathy had veered to Quong. Hollister had gone too far. The voice of Law and Order was sounded grandiloquently in a Plainman editorial and copied by the Mictlan Herald.

It promised well for the time when the mesa would be quit of its undesirable citizens. Meantime Sheridan went on with his proselytizing of the cattle breeders. Development here was not so encouraging. He encountered the surly hostility or apathy of those who feared—and sometimes fought blind—any change that might bring about some possible benefit to the neighbors they chose to think of as rivals. More and more he saw that he must develop the project alone to the point where he was able to deliver water for the various purposes of development for Chito Mesa. But Mary Burrows helped.

SUGGESTIONS
Storing Woolens Away.—Woolens packed in papers and camphor are generally secure, as we all know that moths do not like printer's ink. In closing the season, do not store your suits as they sometimes tear the paper. Get a box of gummed labels and write the contents of each package or suit on a small card and attach it with which shops often tie their packages.

How to Sew Thin Silks.—Cut strips of paper about one inch wide and fold it under the seam when you are sewing. This will keep your machine from drawing the paper can easily be torn from the seam, your seam will be easily made and not puckered, as usually happens when we attempt them without it.

Dinner Stories

Ferdinand De Footletts, the well-known tragedian, comedian and the rest of it, was billed for a one-night stand at Mallow-on-the-Marsh. So he sent a telegram to the proprietor of the local theater:

"We hold a rehearsal tomorrow night. Have stage manager, stage carpenter, property man, assistant electrician and other stage hands there without fail."

Within a few hours he got a reply from the proprietor, who wired back: "He will be there."

A clergyman from northeastern Pennsylvania tells the story of an Italian who brought his baby to him to be baptized.

"Now," he said, you see you baptize him right. Last time I told you I want my boy call 'Tom,' you call 'Tom.' Thomas. I want him call 'Jack.' I no want you call him 'Jackass!'"

During a recent political campaign a group of women workers were having a house-to-house canvass in one of the rural districts.

Record Entry of 13 Schools in Whitewater Relay Tourney

EXPECT 200 BOYS TO SHOW PROWESS IN RECORD EVENT

Exceeding by four schools the number that competed last year, the Whitewater normal high school track and field meet will open at Hamilton field Friday afternoon with athletes from 13 schools toiling the mark.

There will be approximately 192 boys competing, and perhaps this number will be swelled to more than 200.

The large number of individuals who will take part will stamp the Whitewater meet as the largest in the state outside of the Wisconsin meet at Madison, May 20. The field of this district will be about one-third of the number who will take part in the state classic.

Schools entered are Janesville, Evansville, Edgerton, Milton Union, Jefferson, Lake Geneva, Stoughton, Wisconsin High, Kenosha, Whitewater Normal, Sharon, Madison Central and Madison East.

Eligibility lists for all these institutions except Sharon, now in the hands of Dr. T. H. Holt, Edgerton, chairman of the Wisconsin Inter-Scholastic Athletic association, The Sharon list is expected and it may be possible that Clinton and Palmyra may yet take teams in the meet.

The entry list already will see 50 more boys taking part than in the renewal of the Whitewater meet last year.

Mead Burke, assistant track coach of the University of Wisconsin, will be the starter. The Whitewater band will be there with plenty of "pep" making machinery.

DID YOU buy your ticket today? What ticket? For the Black Cat opener with Port Atkinson here on May 12, the first home game in manager of the Gossard plant here, home talent league. Get on the wagon and give the boys a first class boost. They are your neighbors and your friends. They need your support. The stands will be necessary at "The Pines" and only the real long green will make those stands possible. Port is coming down with at least 200 violent rovers and perhaps more. Buy a ticket, brother. See you at the game.

THE INTERCOUNTY ball loop, composed of teams of Jefferson and Dodge counties, will get under way next Sunday. This circuit, revamped from the Jefferson county league of last year, is entirely home talent. Plays in the 1922 organization have been plucked out and "Drex" Davis has put together a group of some of the county's best players. The team is better than last season. Here's wishing success to the intercounty, for out of it the present southern Wisconsin league has grown. Davis has the idea first and "Dad" put it over before.

"GEORGE BENNETT, a newcomer in conference tennis, was the whole show against the Hawkies," says the Madison correspondent of the Rockford Morning Star. Bennett, a Janesville lad, son of J. P. Bennett, manager of the Gossard plant here, "Dennett" was playing his first match for Wisconsin in Big Ten circles, but he beat Seale, 6-2, 6-0, in the singles, and was a powerful factor when, with Art Moulter, the doubles team beat Dorsey and Seale, 6-3, 6-4. "Atta boy, George!"

Prep School Day Down at Beloit Next Saturday

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE]

Beloit—With a track meet and a baseball game slated for Saturday, Beloit will have a big day on the important part in the annual high school day fete. Coach Mills' baseball nine mixes bats with Coe college, while Coe's track team follows the ball game with a dual meet with Cornell.

Seniors from high schools in the midwestern states will be the guests of the college for the week-end. The college contests are a substitute for the high school track meet formerly held on this day.

The Coe game will be the second home contest of the Gold season. In a game featured by the slugging of the home boys, Beloit defeated Lake Forest, 12-7, last Saturday. The Cornell-Beloit dual meet will be the second encounter this year for Beloit's elder men.

Although Cornell is reported stronger than the team which the Gold defeated by a safe margin last year, the experience gained at the Wisconsin-Beloit meet, which the Hawks took 93 to 42, should give the local team a large handicap. The Beloit relay team failed to place in the Drake relays last Saturday although they ran the half mile under the 1:33 mark. Coach Oswood will depend upon Dahlgron, Nygren in the weight, Arthur Addison in the dash and broad jump, and Gates and Thompson in the hurdles for some of the Beloit markers. Both Beloit hurdlers clip the high barriers close to 15 and 40 feet for a twenty-one foot 10 inches.

Call for Bids on U. W. Stadium

Madison—The University of Wisconsin will advertise the last of its work for bids for construction of approximately 10,000 additional seats in the concrete stadium at Camp Randall. The contract will call for the work to be completed early in October so the seats may be used for the home-coming game with Minnesota, Oct. 27.

The work this year will be the construction of the seven sections to connect the east and west stands and complete the first section of the stadium. The stadium will be 100 feet high, the same as the east stand, and with the addition of the temporary bleachers above the west stand will provide a seating capacity of approximately 35,000.

The new stand will have seven entrances and eight exits which will give a total of 20 entrances through the stadium in addition to the open end of the stadium. The peculiar style of architecture in the Wisconsin stadium, being constructed entirely from receipts of football games, insures a complete view of the entire field from every seat. It is estimated the addition this year will cost approximately $50,000.

Reduced Fares to State Meet

Madison—The Western Passenger association has granted a rate of one and one-half cents for the round trip to Madison from all points in Wisconsin for the 23rd Annual Wisconsin Inter-Scholastic track and field

NEED NO CODE, SAYS MICHIGAN

Ann Arbor, Mich.—Members of the Michigan varsity ball squad refuse to sign the sportsmanship code for baseball that has been drawn up by a committee of "Big Ten" athletic directors. By signing such an agreement, the maize and blue players say, they would be intimating their head committee followed unimportant practices in the past.

The idea of the code is being carried out by all members of the team and will continue to be, Captain Irwin Uteritz of the baseball squad said. But there will be no signing, he added.

"Most of the rules in the code are supported in rules of the game and therefore are in force already," Uteritz declared.

Schedule City Games Monday

Scheduling of games for the city industrial ball league will be done next Monday night. The committee on this matter will meet at the Y. M. C. A. A. E. Bergman, George DeBruin and Frank Sinclair compose the committee.

Wisconsin Crews Now Number Ten

Madison—Although the varsity crew just got onto the water on Lake Mendota this week, two weeks later last year, Coach Harry (Dad) Vall hopes to develop one of the best crews in years at the University of Wisconsin.

One hundred and seventy men tried out for the varsity crew during the indoor season. This number has been reduced to 95 for the rowing daily. The members of the varsity this year were all members last year and with their experience should make a much better showing.

The crew will meet both the Duluth and St. Paul boat club crews this spring and is now arranging a race with the University of Washington crew on its way east for the Poughkeepsie meet.

Although the Athletic council has recommended the crew be sent to the Poughkeepsie meet next year for the first time in 10 years, should Washington be defeated in the meet on Lake Mendota, it is possible the crew may be sent to the big eastern regatta in June.

Perfect Game at Rockford

Rockford—Rennie Young of the Bloomington club of the Three Eye league pitched a perfect game against Rockford Wednesday. Only 27 men faced him and none reached first base.

meet to be held under the auspices of the University of Wisconsin, Saturday, May 26, the participants plan to use the newly 1,000 high school athletes coming to the meet will pay full fare coming to Madison and one-half fare for the return trip. Their certificates have been validated.

Last year, 63 high schools in the state were represented at the big state meet by 644 athletes. It is expected more than 100 schools will send teams this year with from 800 to 1,000 contestants.

Interest in track athletics has increased to such an extent that a number of county and sectional meets as well as numerous dual meets have been arranged in advance for the state inter-scholastic.

It is also possible that an effort will be made to have the state high school baseball championship decided in a game here on the day of the track meet. The visiting athletes will be entertained while in Madison by the annual water carnival closing with "Venetian" night on Lake Mendota.

Seventh Inning Slugging Fest; Whitewater Wins

Whitewater—Rallying in the seventh and sending seven runs over the pan, Whitewater normal school defeated Northwestern college of Watertown here Wednesday afternoon, 10 to 3. It was the second victory of the season for the teachers over the Goslings.

It all started with an error by Frauzeman of Watertown. The third sacker for the collegians was so flustered over that mishap that he followed with a second boot. And then—Charity doubled to start things moving. In the mess, came a triple by Kwapi, a double by Zuckie and a triple by Schultz. In all, 12 of Whitewater's men were at bat in that session with Jager being batted out of the box.

Schultz had a big day with the stick, getting a three bagger and a home run. The circuit clout was poled in the eighth with Schwager on first.

Thatcher Schultz was going good and allowed two hits in four frames when he developed a sore elbow and asked to be taken out in order to save his wing. For the rest of the afternoon, Kwapi gave the Goslings but three hits.

In the second inning Jager, Watertown pitcher, struck out three men on nine pitched balls.

Tie Again Rules in Chess Battle

Washington, D. C.—After a poor 15th move on which he was forced to sacrifice a pawn for a chance to block the position, Edward Lasker, challenger of the United States championship, was able to do nothing but tie the 15th game with Frank J. Marshall here, the contest being tied off at the 60 move.

Marshall attempted an offensive on the 27th move, but Lasker gave up his queen for two rooks and forced the draw by exposing Marshall's king to a perpetual check. The score stands 3 to 7 in favor of Marshall. The 16th game will be played in New York Saturday.

Black Cats Will Erect 600 Additional Seats

Booster tickets for the opening game of the southern Wisconsin baseball league season in Janesville, May 12, went on sale Thursday. A squad of five salesmen started the rounds of the downtown district to dispose of the duats.

Proceeds are to go for the erection of 600 additional seats for the stands at "The Pines" on North Washington street. When these are erected, the capacity of the local park will be 800, shaded and good seats close onto the diamond and enable every fan to see every play closely.

Port Atkinson keeps on sending the dope down that they will bring at least 300 fans along. They challenge Janesville to beat them out in numbers of rosters.

Arrangements are going forward for a big demonstration on opening day. They are expected to be completed by the fore part of next week.

YATES WILL TO BE PROVED IN JUNE

Two Million Dollar Estate Before Filled in Next Month's Term.

Proving of the will of the late Peter B. Yates, Beloit manufacturer, who disposed of a $2,000,000 estate, will be at the regular June term of the Rock county court, it was stated Thursday. The term opens, June 6. Mr. Yates has provided that specific sums be paid by the trustees, L. M. Randall, F. L. Lane and H. A. Van Over, Beloit, for the "support, comfort and education" of his daughter and sole heir, Florence Argall Yates, up to the time she is 25 years of age. Four thousand dollars is to be paid during her 16th year; $1500 during her 17th year; $5,000 during her 18th, 19th and 20th years and $6,000 thereafter until she is 25 years old. After that the trustees shall pay quarterly the entire net income of the trust estate subject to the provisions otherwise provided.

Provisions for Others. The trustees are directed in event of the death of the daughter leaving issue to deliver the residue and remainder of the trust estate to lawful issue of the daughter, child or children of any deceased child of Florence Yates.

In event of the child's death without issue, one half of the residue of the trust estate is given in equal shares to Mary Ann Small, Cleveland, O., George L. Henry and Carlos Harrison and Isabelle Harrison Covington, Los Angeles, Calif., and L. M. Randall, Beloit, or issue, or if none are living heirs at law of the deceased person.

The other half of the trust estate in event of the death of Florence Yates is for establishment and upkeep of a home for "deserving old women."

If the trustees feel the establishment of an old ladies home in Beloit is not a public necessity, they are directed to use the part of the trust estate for the "relief of the poor and needy, deserving persons residing in Beloit," and the money shall be paid to any duly recognized charitable organization in Beloit for this purpose.

Appointment of the Beloit State Bank as legal guardian of the property of Florence Argall Yates, until she becomes of legal age is requested.

Several Cousins Benefitted

Under the trust fund, amounts equivalent to dividends on Yates stock of the following shares are to be paid by the trustees for six years, to the following: George L. Henry, and Carlos Harrison, second cousins, Los Angeles, 50 shares common stock each; Isabelle Harrison Covington, 250 shares preferred; Carl Leslie Haskin, Beloit, housekeeper, 200 shares preferred; Stephen Wallace, 50 shares preferred; Frank Devine, caretaker, 15 shares preferred stock; Mary Ann Small, Cleveland, 20 shares preferred stock; F. L. Lane, 250 shares preferred stock. The shares of stock, on which each person receives an amount equivalent to the dividends for six years, are to be delivered to them at the end of that period.

In the event the stock has been disposed of, rendering impossible the carrying out of delivery of the stock, an amount equivalent to the par value is to be given to them.

A cousin, Mrs. J. Harrison, Sr., Los Angeles, Calif., is to be paid an amount equivalent to dividends on 250 shares of preferred Yates stock during her lifetime.

At the death of Mrs. Harrison, the 250 shares of preferred stock must be delivered to Mrs. Isabelle Harrison Covington, or her child or children if she be deceased. Care to be taken that the stock be paid $100 a month until she leaves the employ of Florence Yates without her consent. In the event of the daughter's death Miss Haskin is to be paid $500.

New Bills Mean Added Work for School for Blind

Additional responsibility in caring for the blind of the state is placed at the school for the blind if the Cason and Ruffing bills are signed by Governor Blaine. It will mean the establishment at the school for the blind of a field agency for social work among the adult blind.

Briefly outlined by Supt. J. T. Hooper, it includes visits being made to the blind in their homes; keeping records of them and their fitness for education and rehabilitation; finding employment for them; furnishing raw materials at cost and selling the finished products; and furnishing county authorities with any information in the school's possession which will aid in administration of relief work.

An appropriation of $15,000, less than one-half asked by the state bureau for the care of the blind, which is abolished with the passage of the bill, must be provided by the legislature to carry out the field agency work.

Administration of pensions for the blind reverts to the county authorities again with the abolishment of the bill. The Rock county board of supervisors at the April session went on record favoring the new bills, after hearing Supt. Hooper.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Editor Gazette:

In the Gazette of a few days ago I noticed in Voice of the People, a writer takes the pains to look for finding fault with the public servants at Madison after we had sent them there by the majority of the votes. The writer would have had a better opinion of the party that wrote it if he had signed his name to it. It is true the majority of the voters sent them there and we bow to the majority but that does not prevent us from finding fault if they waste the people's time passing and quarrelling over foolish things that do not amount to a row of pins and refuse to consider at all what really concerns the public welfare and safety. Wisconsin, U. S. A. is not Germany, where it is less-majesty, neither is it England, where the king is to be wrong.

Seifert Among Latest to Seek Managerial Post

C. A. Seifert, Madison, is among the latest to make application for the position of city manager of Janesville, his letter being among six filed with city clerk E. J. Sartell since the last council meeting.

Mr. Seifert is the man who installed the present system of accounting in the office of the city clerk and treasurer and also put in the water department's bookkeeping plan. He is now engaged in making an audit of the water department books and will audit the city treasurer's records immediately following.

Other recent applicants for the city managerial post are: Arthur A. Bentley, former mayor of La Crosse; J. C. Manning, Duluth, Minn.; A. E. Cullen, Chicago; H. L. Beach, own manager, Franklin, Va.; and I. C. Brower, Pontiac, Mich.

STREET DEPARTMENT ACTIVITIES INCREASE

With the arrival of spring and also due to the increased activity brought about by the new administration, the force of Street Commissioner Thomas McKune has been increased to 22 men and as a result the pay-roll for the two weeks' period ending April 30 amounted to $1,050, higher than it has been during the winter. Due to the old council having sold off all but two teams of the street department's horses, Councilman C. Starr Atwood has found it necessary to rent two additional teams from L. L. Cuts at $8 a day per team. Mr. Atwood is chairman of the council highway committee.

Wood will be a partner in the new firm, which will take possession at once. Wallace Dehling, who had been in the employ of Mr. Tubbs, will be retained. School Costs Run $22,000 in Month

Maintenance of the city's school system continues to run several thousand dollars in excess of what it did before completion of the new high school, the April report of the clerk of the board of education, Miss Lydia Ziemann, showing expenditures totalling $22,610. Teachers' salaries, $15,254; salaries of superintendent, clerks, attendance officer and janitor, $3,575; to state treasurer for teachers' retirement fund, $618; quarterly water bill, $511; fuel, $505; monthly electric bill, $233; and transportation of pupils, $216.

DEPUTY ASSESSOR WORKS, ALTHOUGH NOT ON PAYROLL

Complying with the order of the state tax commission for a cut in the forces employed in assessors of incomes offices May 1, because of the failure of the legislature to pass an emergency appropriation, Miss Jeanette E. Inman, deputy assessor of incomes in the office of P. A. Taylor, has agreed to be on the pay roll but is continuing to work at the office at the request of Mr. Taylor.

The ruling sent out by the tax commission ordered assessors of incomes to lay off all help May 1 and discontinue field work customarily done in May and June.

Unless some steps are taken by the state tax department, taxation work will be partially disrupted by the order, it is believed.

Assessor Busy Checking 'em Up

City Assessor Frank L. Spith is busy with the big task of assessing all real and personal property in the city for its value as of May 1, 1923. His figures will furnish the basis on which next year's taxes will be proportioned.

He must place assessments on all buildings and lots, besides fixing the values on automobiles, merchants' and manufacturers' stocks, tobacco, bank stock, sheep, cattle, horses, swine, wagons, carriages, sleighs and many other things.

His figures will be submitted to the board of review at a meeting to be held probably in July. Protests and objections may be made by the public at that time.
